

NEURODIVERGENT PRACTITIONERS IN AUSTRALIA

Please note the information provided is taken directly from professionals' responses, personal recommendations, and/or my knowledge of the professionals listed and is correct at the date of publication noted in the footnote. I do not know all providers personally and cannot comment on the quality of their services. Please check with a provider to ensure they are a good fit for you, can provide the support you need, and clarify their availability. Personal email addresses and responses to the lived experience research project question have been omitted for privacy reasons.

Practitioner List: If you are a practitioner wishing to be added to the listing, please complete the Google form (<https://forms.gle/LEFwykDs33bi1RJz9>).

Distribution List: If you want to be added to the distribution list, please complete the Google form (<https://forms.gle/yvnDesUcdKwGteA76>).

Research Participation: Researchers seeking access to practitioners willing to participate in lived experience research please contact me directly at hello@iahsupport.com.au.

With thanks, Leanne Watts

Other relevant information:

1. Telepractice Services: Practitioners who offer Telehealth/Telepractice services provide them Australia-wide.
2. Classification of Practitioners: There is no universally accepted definition of allied health. Different definitions are used internationally and across Australia. Health professions included on this page are defined under the criteria used by the Chief Allied Health Office, which references this website for further information: <https://ahpa.com.au/allied-health-professions/>. Refer to the last three pages for additional information about each profession listed in this document, including professional associations and memberships with AHPRA or NASHRP.
3. Verification of Qualifications: The person seeking assistance is responsible for verifying the qualifications and training of the listed practitioners. While I have attempted to conduct quality control checks, I cannot guarantee the accuracy of all information.
4. Neurodivergent Affirming Practitioners: The person seeking assistance is responsible for verifying if the practitioners listed are committed to neurodivergent affirming practices. Practitioners have also chosen to disclose whether their neurodivergent identity is self-diagnosed or professionally diagnosed, reflecting client feedback for transparency in identity.
5. Trauma-Informed: We assume all practitioners listed should be trauma-informed. However, this is an assumption, so we cannot guarantee the accuracy of all information.
6. Document Search: Use Ctrl + F and relevant keywords to locate specific information quickly within this document.
